WS1375524654	Lockton Street Arches Principal Contractor Works	The refurbishment of Lockton St arches was previously commenced by Peabody however this was only partially completed due to a stand down following the Grenfell fire. Limited H&S file information was handed over to TfL following the stand down and as such the Project team has had to undertake surveys to determine the quality and compliance of existing installations. The project is currently in RIBA4 design, and the surveys completed to date have highlighted issues with the existing slabs and rear blockwork. The quality of the slab pours and make up is inconsistent, therefore, to prevent issues with the slabs once tenants are in situ and futureproof the spaces it is now expected that the slabs will need to be replaced. The rear blockwork has suffered heavily from water ingress and is cracking in places due to the lack of ventilation in the arches. Therefore, it is proposed that these are also replaced and new walls to sit on new concrete	CONSTRUCTION;	29/06/2024	£1M - £5M

WS1623131110	PLU HV Power - Additional Inverse Overcurrent Protection Relays	In view of the increased current drawn by the new trains and the increased rectifier loadings, there is a need for LU to assess the impact on the DC protection schemes and the relay settings. Following a fault masking study for 27tph there is a requirement to adjust the settings of the existing DC electrical protection relays to the sites that are not to be upgraded during Phase 1 works, in order to accommodate the higher currents drawn by the trains. However, the DC protection study has shown that for five sites the existing protection is inadequate, as the instantaneous protection required for Phase 1 to avoid nuisance tripping is higher than the setting required to protect the track. Hence, additional Inverse Overcurrent (O/C) protection relays to supplement the existing protection devices are required to prevent the increased loads from the new train causing nuisance tripping.	POWER & COOLING;	31/07/2024	£500K - £1M

WS1724318979	ICT14547 Access Transformation Programme - Access Planning	Transport for London Capital Programmes department is currently investing in the Major Upgrade Programme that will introduce modern signalling, new rolling stock, new power systems, replacement tracks to London Underground (LU). This is with the aim of enabling more trains to be operated on the tube network and the introduction of the 24 hour weekend tubes, planned for November 2015. For the Major Upgrade and 24 hour weekend tube programmes to be a success, it has been identified that TfL must become more efficient at planning engineering works across the transport network. It has been recognised that access to TfL locations such as tracks, platforms, sidings, stations, bus and rail depots must be improved. This has resulted in the creation of the Access Transformation Programme (ATP) which is a programme aimed at improving access efficiency to all TfL locations through better coordination of resource and use of technology.
